Pre-marching a parade route

■ Vets' parade scheduled for November 11 in central West Sac; high school students help spread the word to homes along the route

Volunteer high school students on Saturday helped organizers of a November 11 Veterans Day Parade give proper notice of the event to 450 homes along the parade route.

Members of the River City High School "Interact Club" hand-delivered notices to the homes over several hours, politely warning the locals that they would have limited access to their homes during the parade. Students answered questions when they chatted with residents, and left a letter behind if no one was home.

Parade organizer Debbie Reynolds is a member of one of the city's two Rotary Clubs – which are both supporting the parade, and which help support the Interact Club.

"The purpose of participation in community service projects is to (develop) leadership skills and personal integrity; demonstrate helpfulness and respect for others; (learn) to understand the value of individual responsibility and hard work; and lastly, to advance international understanding and goodwill," she said in a written statement. "The kids of River City High School have demonstrated these traits on both a local and international level."

Helping the club are advisor Charyl Silva, a local chiropractor and Rotarian, and teacher advisor Brandon Duff of RCHS.

"Last year, the kids raised enough funds to pay for a year's college tuition for a student in Cambodia," said Reynolds.

Reynolds said that the parade will begin at Westmore Oaks Elementary School, 1100 Clarendon Road, then go south to Meadow Road, right on Westacre, southwest on Park Blvd, and east on Stone Boulevard to Sam Combs Park for a closing ceremony.

Access to homes may be limited from 2-4 p.m. for this first-annual event.

Another traditional West Sacramento parade called the "Community Day Parade" has not been held since October, 2009. The poor economy and trouble with sponsorships canceled it in 2010. The Neighbors Fair organization planned to revive a form of the parade this year, but those plans, too, have been canceled.

But a "Multicultural Fair" is still planned for downtown West Sacramento on Oct. 1, courtesy of the West Sacramento Family Literacy Coalition and other partners.

Updates on cell phone towers in Southport

A plan to build an AT&T cell phone tower in Southport is quiet, but certainly not dead, an AT&T official told the News-Ledger this week.

The company plans to build a 60-foot fake-eucalyptus tree cell tower as part of a facility on city-owned property on the southeast corner of Southport Parkway and Marshall Road. The project would require a lease from the city.

David Tilley, senior planner for the City of West Sacramento, said that his office has seen no movement from AT&T since May, and "it's really up to them."

Lane Kasselman, Director of Communications for the company, told the News-Ledger by email that his company is working on an analysis concerning some suggested terms of the project, and "we hope to have our analysis complete in the next few months and will let you know of any updates as they become available."

When the News-Ledger reported the project earlier this year, several residents expressed concern about the aesthetics of the tower – but others said they were eager for the tower to go in and improve their local cell coverage.

Meanwhile, a separate Southport cell phone project is still active, said the City's Tilley.

That project calls for another faux-tree – this time, a "pine" on the 3200-block of Jefferson Boulevard near Tower Mart. The project is proposed by a company which develops cell towers for communications providers.

'All Charities Raffle' returns, nets $31k

CHARLIE MOORE
Co-organizer of the raffle

It was another good year for the "All Charities Raffle," reports Charles ("Charlie") Moore of the West Sacramento Foundation.

Once again, the Foundation took on the job of printing raffle tickets and accumulating a list of raffle prizes, and then inviting West Sacramento schools and charities to sell the $10 tickets and keep $9 from each sale to themselves.

It was the second year for the idea.

"We did about the same as last year," said Moore. "Last year, we did $32-something-thousand. This year, we did $31,000. It's a great result. We did change the raffle date a little bit and hurt ourselves by doing that. Some of the groups involved were school groups, and they went back to school at the end of August and the thing was over the first week of September, so they only had two or three weeks to play with it."

28 groups took part in selling tickets and raising money. Some of the prizes included a Maui vacation donated by Mark and Jennifer Capitolo, use of a condo in Puerto Vallarta (Wes and Jolaine Beers), a $500 shopping spree from Ikea, use of a River Cats luxury suite, a $500 gas card from Ramos Oil, and a flat-screen TV from Walmart.

Some of the highest grossing groups to sell tickets were the Leukemia and Lymphoma Society ($2,997), Soroptimist International of West Sacramento ($2,187), the Centennial Rotary Club ($1,890), Friends of the Main Drain Parkway ($1,800)and the Our Lady of Grace Parish Women's Council ($1,341). Other big earners were the Yolo County Children's Alliance ($1,557), UP 4 West Sacramento (promoters of high-quality preschool; $1,287), and the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 8762 (raising $1,404).

After paying for ticket printing and selling a few tickets of its own, the West Sacramento Foundation will have a couple thousand dollars left over to put into its grant program for local nonprofits, said Moore.

"We helped put over $30,000 back into local groups, and whenever you're doing that, you're doing something good," he commented.

The West Sacramento Foundation has long-held an annual golf tournament to raise money to fund local nonprofits. In the current economy, demand for their help has gone up.

"In the past years, going back three or for years, we only got six or ten grant applications," Moore stated. "Those grants would amount to anywhere from $5,000 to $10,000. But in the last two or three years, we've been getting about 30 applications a year, and the amount required has gone to $40-50,000. We've only been able to give out about $15-20,000."

Is the high demand a sign of the bad economy?

"Absolutely, it's a sign of the times. Every organization is struggling to make ends meet, which is why we came up with a raffle idea – to let the groups help themselves."

The raffle was organized by the Foundation's board as a team effort, he said. Moore is executive director of the Foundation. This year's raffle chairman was Oscar Villegas, city council member.

On Sept. 10, participants in the raffle got together for a celebratory spaghetti dinner and a drawing of the raffle prizes at the VFW Post on Drever Street.

When city councilman approached to help draw raffle prizes, a lot of people in the room were mindful of what happened when Kristoff drew the first winner in the first raffle – he drew his own name.

"What are the chances of that?" Moore laughed. "One in three thousand? Bill immediately put the ticket back. But this year, we weren't taking any chances. We made him take Chris Ledesma's daughter up there to draw the ticket for him."

Moore said he was pleased to see that every winning raffle ticket had been sold by a different local group.

The Foundation's annual golf tournament fundraiser is scheduled for October 13 (the News-Ledger plans to publish information soon in our calendar section).

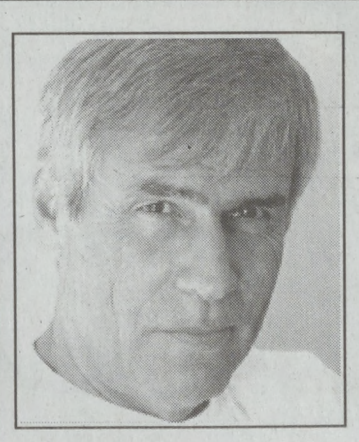
Is somebody whispering in your ear?

My Back Pages



By Daryl Fisher

As I wrote in this column a few years back, I am probably the last person in all of West Sacramento who doesn't own a cell phone. Now I was actually okay with the old, traditional telephones, back when the numbers you had to dial weren't too long and the phones themselves were centrally located in every home. But even then I had my suspicions about how the darn things worked. I mean, it has never made any sense to me that a human voice can somehow cram itself into a long skinny wire or cable and then be heard loud and clear hundreds or even thousands of miles from where it originated. And now, with the invention of cellular technology, people's voices have somehow even managed to escape from those magical wires and are floating around all over God only knows where.

The telephones of my children's generation have gotten so small and compact that they can fit into the palm of a hand and come in every style and color imaginable, unlike the wonderful big black ones that I was comfortable using at both home and in telephone booths when I was growing up. Worst of all, you now have to have better than 20/20 vision just to correctly dial the tiny numbers on a modern-day cell phone, and when you actually go to talk on one of the darn things, they are never long enough to stretch from your ear to your mouth, like it seems all respectable phone receivers should do.

Another thing I have always hated about all the advancements in cell phone technology is the fact that everything is wireless now, so you can't ever really escape from your own telephone. By that I mean that in the good old days, once you walked out of your office or your front door, no one could find you, especially the people you didn't want to find you. But nowadays, if you have a cell phone, you are expected to take it everywhere you go, just like it was your wallet or your car keys.

Anyway, just when I thought things could not possibly get any worse when it comes to telephone technology, a friend suddenly started to go on and on about having a bug in her ear.

"You have a bug in your ear?" I asked her, recalling a time when a big black bug flew right into one of my ears and it took a visit to the doctor's office to finally get it out.

"Not a bug, silly. It's called an earbud! It's the latest in cell phones."

"You're kidding."

"No, and I am sure you have seen people wandering around with one of them in their ear."

"No I haven't," I assured my friend. "What do they look like?"

"Well," she explained, "most of them are only an inch or so long and they have a little light that flashes blue when it's in use and red when it's not. It fits right into the ear canal just like those you would use on any audio device. It has an ear piece that goes around your ear, sort of like a pair of glasses or a hearing aid that holds it in there. It is wireless and once it's working you can carry the actual cell phone in your pocket or wherever. Haven't you seen people walking around in stores talking in hushed tones like they were a spy or something? In fact, I hear lots of private detectives and real spies are using them."

"Maybe they haven't reached West Sacramento yet," I ventured hopefully.

"I doubt that since they're pretty much everywhere now. At first they made the people who saw them being used think that the users were crazy and talking to themselves, but now it has become so normal that people don't think anything about it anymore."

"Well," I said, "I guess that's at least helpful to the people who actually do go around talking to themselves."

"Anyway," continued my friend, "these little gems do come in quite handy because you can even put the cell phone itself in your bra if you're a woman and wearing an outfit that doesn't have pockets that day."

"You put it in your bra?"

"Sure, but you do have to be a little careful about long-winded conversations because they tend to heat things up pretty quickly. But it really frees up your hands and you don't have to walk around with a permanent kink in your neck from trying to hold a tiny phone between your ear and your shoulder. Plus no one can hear what is being said to you as the sound goes directly into your ear canal. However, the person listening on the other end can pick up any of the noises going on around the person wearing it. So if I'm rattling paper, or doing the dishes, or running water, or just listening to music, it can really drive the person I'm talking to nuts."

"You know," I said, "I'm starting to think that people aren't going to be completely happy with their cell phones until they are small enough to have them surgically implanted into their ears or brains."

"That's actually not that far off," my friend assured me. "I'm afraid when it comes to modern communications, Daryl, you can't stand in the way of progress. What would you have us do? Go back to the days of rude telephone operators and gossipy party lines?"

"No," I said, "if it was up to me, I would have us go all the way back to smoke signals and the Pony Express!"

In the good old days, once you walked out of your office or your front door, no one could find you, especially the people you didn't want to find you. But nowadays, if you have a cell phone, you are expected to take it everywhere you go, just like it was your wallet or your car keys.

Letters to the Editor

Big lies

The question asked at the end of your editorial last week concerning our unprovoked attack on Iraq is an important one. "Are we still being short-sighted?" Unfortunately, we are being far worse than merely short-sighted. We are paving the way to future disaster. It is a great disappointment that President Obama's justice department has failed to investigate the blatant war crimes of the Bush regime. Sadly, the current administration has now become complicit in this immoral cover-up.

Cheney and Rumsfeld are on TV talk shows openly bragging about breaking torture laws and thumbing their nose at the Geneva Convention. It seems to mean nothing that they manufactured terrible threats to exploit the deepest fears of the America people. They should be on trial in the Hague. Instead, they are blithely telling the whole world that our word, when it comes to foreign policy, is worthless. Once again we, the unwashed masses, are being manipulated into treating criminal behavior as if it was just a matter of ill conceived policy.

This careless approach assures another future president (perhaps even Texas Governor Rick Perry) that he is above the law. There will be no consequences if he illegally invades a sovereign country, kills thousands of innocent people, and squanders billions of tax-payers dollars.

Like most people, I was bamboozled by Bush's biggest lie, the infamous "mushroom cloud". I feel like such a chump. Still, we take the easy way out and collectively shirk our responsibility. We seem willing to hold no one accountable, sweep the whole mess under the rug, and hope for the best. I fear the appalling toll of our sins (not commission but omission) will be visited on future generations. Far too many innocent souls have perished (and continue to die) as mere pawns in this horrific war game. May God help us all.

Yolo restructure

Yolo County Administrator Patrick Blacklock recently announced a restructuring of the County Administrative Office with the departure of Pat Leary, former Assistant County Administrator, who has taken a top position in the State Department of Social Services.

Dirk Brazil has stepped into the role of Assistant County Administrator. Brazil has been serving as Deputy County Administrator since 2006. As Assistant County Administrator, he will continue to spearhead initiatives including the county's climate change program, economic development, intergovernmental relations, natural resources, revenue development and tribal relations as well as assist with management of countywide operations.

Mindi Nunes is the new Deputy County Administrator, thus leaving the position of Director of Administrative Services vacant for a cost-savings. Nunes has been with Yolo County since 2006, beginning her tenure as Director of Human Resources. Recently, she has overseen county facilities, which includes the countywide parks system, organizational performance, emergency services, finance and operations of the County Administrative Office, along with Human Resources.

"This restructuring in the County Administrative Office allows us to reduce management ranks and achieve significant budget savings," said Yolo County Administrator Patrick Blacklock in a press release. "In the months to come, we will further explore options for streamlining our fiscal and budget operations."

"Pat has been a huge asset to Yolo County and she is certainly going to be missed," said Yolo County Board of Supervisors Chair Matt Rexroad about Leary, in a press release.

The Washington Unified School District is looking for community members interested in being a part of a 7–11 Committee. Pursuant to Section 17389 of the Education Code, prior to any declaration of surplus and sale of any real property owned by the District which is no longer needed for its mission purpose, the Board shall appoint no fewer than 7 nor more than 11 people in the community to make up a Surplus Real Property Advisory Committee ("7-11 Committee"). COUCH THEATER DVD PREVIEWS

BY SAM STRUCKHOFF

EDGAR RAMIREZ

PICKS OF THE WEEK

"Carlos" (R) -- Venezuelan-born terrorist Ilich Ramirez Sanchez eluded capture for 30 years before being arrested in 1994, and according to the five-hour long thriller/biopic ÒCarlos,Ó there wasnÕt a dull or irrelevant moment. ItÕs scary to think that somebody could evade justice for so long, and mesmerizing to see a movie keep up the pace for such a long runtime. Changing settings, changing times and a steadily unfolding character, played by Edgar Ramirez ("The Bourne Ultimatum"), keep things from sagging. The film offers an immersive look into the Cold War era of international crime and terrorism, all magnificently framed by one egomaniacÕs climb to fame. No true cinephile could turn away from this engaging epic.

"Good Neighbors" (R) -- In a neighborhood terrorized by a serial killer who takes his victims off the streets, three neighbors rally together for support, only to realize that true danger could be sitting at the table with them. This Canadian thriller keeps a tight focus on its three main performers with crushing suspense and pitch-black humor.

Far from a formulaic whodunit, "Good Neighbors" keeps viewers squirming with crafty writing and layered performances. Things shift from oddly funny to downright gruesome in such a way that may put off some audiences -- but for the brave, there is a serious gem of close-to-home noir.

DOG OF THE WEEK

"The Ledge" (R) -- In an attempt to jumpstart a dialog about faith and atheism, "The Ledge" delivers a dull thud of melodrama. Gavin (Charlie Hunnam of "Sons of Anarchy") stands on the ledge of a highrise, contemplating a jump that would end his life but save his loverÕs. But as the story behind the situation unfolds, this opening tension turns out to be a weak conceit.

Gavin is an atheist. His lover, Shana (Liv Tyler), is married to a devout and controlling Christian man (Patrick Wilson.) Gavin and Shana have sex scenes, then her husband gets very upset. On the ledge, Gavin gives stump speeches for the film's philosophical core, but the movie fails to filibuster its way out of being a half-baked snooze.

TV PICK

"Adventure Time: My Two Favorite People" -- This Cartoon Network original series is a fantastic slice of unique and accessible children's entertainment. Creative, colorful and brimming with heart, "Adventure Time" massages the imagination with a fun universe of goofy characters and a loveable heroic duo. The titular episode for this DVD release sees the characters learning about the complicated impasse of being torn between two best friends, quite an adventure for a boy, a silly shape-shifting dog and a magic unicorn-like creature who only speaks Korean.

The Kitchen Diva BY Angela Shelf Medearis

Gluten-Free and Easy As Can Be!

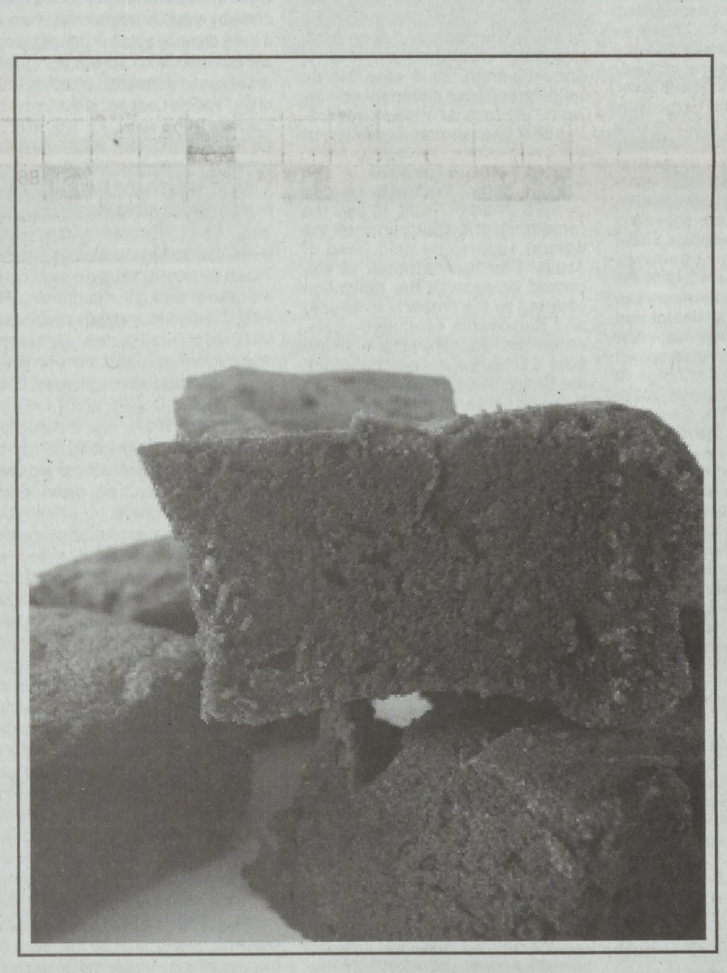
"Gluten-free" is a term now appearing on food labels and often mentioned in health articles, but many people don't know what gluten is or why finding a gluten-free product is so important for some shoppers. My daughter, Deanna, was recently diagnosed as being gluten intolerant. Since she loves bread and pasta, this news was a big adjustment for her. I try to plan family meals with her condition in mind. Educating yourself about gluten is one of the best ways to make the correct food choices.

Gluten is a protein found in the grains wheat, rye and barley. Oats also may contain gluten due to cross-contamination, which means they have come into contact with gluten during processing. When baking, gluten helps give structure, texture and strength to baked foods, such as bread.

Most people can eat gluten, but in some people, gluten causes damage to the small intestine, making it hard to get nutrients out of food and into the body. When nutrients can't get into the body, a person can become malnourished.

This reaction to gluten is a genetic disorder called gluten-sensitive enteropathy, celiac disease or gluten intolerance. Symptoms can be different from person to person and can be confused with symptoms of other health problems. People of any age can develop gluten intolerance, but the disease usually is diagnosed in adults, about 10 years after symptoms first appear.

The only treatment is lifelong avoidance of gluten.



This recipe for Mocha Chocolate Brownies is a modern version of a family favorite using gluten-free convenience ingredients.

MOCHA CHOCOLATE BROWNIES

Dark, rich instant coffee enhances the flavor of the chocolate brownie. The secret to cutting perfect bars is to line the pan with foil so you can lift out the baked bars. Spray the foil as directed in the recipe.

3 cups Cinnamon Chex cereal
3 tablespoons packed brown sugar
1/4 teaspoon baking soda
1/4 cup butter or margarine, melted
1 box (16 ounces) Betty Crocker Gluten Free brownie mix
1/4 cup butter or margarine, melted
1 tablespoon brown sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 tablespoon instant espresso powder or 2 rounded tablespoons ground dark-roast instant coffee
2 eggs

1. Heat oven to 350 F. Spray bottom only of 8-inch square pan with cooking spray. Place cereal in resealable food-storage plastic bag; seal bag and crush with rolling pin to make about 1 1/2 cups.
2. In medium bowl, mix cereal, brown sugar and baking soda; stir in 1/4 cup melted butter until well-mixed. Reserve 1/3 cup cereal mixture for topping. Press remaining cereal mixture evenly in bottom of pan. Bake 5 minutes. Cool 5 minutes.
3. Meanwhile, in medium bowl, stir brownie mix, 1/4 cup melted butter, brown sugar, vanilla, instant coffee, sugar and eggs until well-blended. Drop batter by small spoonfuls over baked layer. Carefully spread over baked layer; sprinkle with reserved 1/3 cup cereal mixture.

4. Bake 30 to 34 minutes or until brownies look dry and set. (Brownies will be soft; do not use toothpick test). Cool completely, about 1 1/2 hours. Cut into 4 rows by 4 rows. Store tightly covered.

"Signing Their Rights Away: The Fame and Misfortune of the Men Who Signed the United States Constitution" by Denise Kiernan and Joseph D'Agnese (Quirk Books, $19.95) Reviewed by Larry Cox

In their previous book, award-winning writers Denise Kiernan and Joseph D'Agnese documented the fate of the 56 men who signed the Declaration of Independence in 1776. Their latest book fast-forwards to the summer of 1787, as 39 cranky, mistrustful men meet -- once again in Philadelphia -- to ratify the United States Constitution. Agreeing on a new constitution was anything but a slam dunk.

It was a turbulent time. The United States found itself on the verge of political collapse. American citizens faced runaway inflation and even the foreclosures of their homes and businesses. It was a turning point in the history of this country, and almost everyone realized that the only solution was a governing framework with enough power to truly work.

To accomplish this, the delegates had to put aside their differences and compromise, but that was easier said than done, especially considering how different many of them were. For example, David Brearley of New Jersey wanted to erase state boundaries and start over, Henry Williamson of North Carolina believed in aliens, Governor Morris of New York was a playboy who didn't let his peg leg get in the way of making a play for Dolly Madison, and John Rutledge of South Carolina was so unstable he attempted suicide twice.

Added to the mix was Rufus King, the original Ralph Nader, a perennial candidate who ran for president and vice president every chance he got, losing every time, and Robert Morris of Philadelphia, who despite helping to finance the American Revolution, ended up in debtor's prison and died penniless.

This is a fascinating story documented by two gifted historians. Kiernan and D'Agnese make both this period and the men who pulled off this incredible achievement exciting and entertaining.

River City football squad handles Sac High, looks forward to Homecoming game this Friday

FROM DE'ONNA JACK

The River City High School football teams faced Sacramento High School on Friday in a home game. Both the Raider junior varsity and varsity squads won.

In the J.V. game, Jamal Williams scored the first touchdown for the Raiders with a 75 yard punt return, and the team never really looked back. The Raiders defense only gave up six points to the Dragons and routed them by a final 42-6.

The rest of the Raiders touchdowns came from Alex Morales's 20-yard TD, Aaron Tyson's 26 yard TD, Kevin Burkes's 22-yard TD and Elijah Thomas, with a 2 yard TD.

In the varsity match, River City broke open a 7-7 game with three second-half touchdowns to beat the visiting Sacramento High School Dragons by a score of 28-7.

The win was the third in a row for a Raider team that appears poised for a playoff run. The second half was perhaps River City's finest of the season as they excelled in all facets of the game. Halfback Uriah Clark punished the Dragons rushing for 142 yards on 24 carries, scoring two touchdowns, despite a knee injury. Quarterback Joey Beall threw for 139 yards including a game sealing 53-yard TD toss to sophomore Malik Dumetz, who had 73 receiving yards.

The River City defense was superb all evening. A relentless pass rush forced four turnovers and consistently thwarted Dragon comeback attempts. Orlander Drake, Artis Jackson and Adam Tyson all came up with key interceptions, and Tyson added a fumble recovery.

Head Coach Art Bustamante was excited about the possibilities:

"We have proven to be our own worst enemy when we've struggled this season," said Bustamante. We displayed the type of play we are capable of in the second half tonight. That was an example of "Raider Football". If we can build on that, and eliminate the mental mistakes, I think we have an opportunity to play with anybody."

The teams will be back at home again on Friday, September 23, 2011 "Homecoming" against El Dorado.

THE YOLO INDEPENDENT

LOCAL ITEMS

The Sacramento River registered 5 feet 5 inches U. S. gauge at the S. P. bridge yesterday.

In the history of the Postoffice in Washington there never before was done a business similar to or equal to that which was done during the Christmas holidays last week. The merchants of the town, too, declare that the business done by them during the holidays was the best ever known. On every hand there was prosperity with ready cash in the hands of the purchasers and that cash was spent unsparingly. The vest trade given to the merchants of Sacramento by residents of Washington may not be estimated, but suffice it to say that hundreds of thousands of dollars found their way across the river to be spent with the retailers of the Capital City.

For the holiday season Romeo Barry, Jr., was at the home of his parents from Vallejo, Mr. and Mrs. Judge Barry. He was accompanied by Bud Wiser.

Mrs. T. Ryan of San Francisco spent Christmas at the Barry home. She stayed a few days visiting with friends in Sacramento.

Miss Essie White was up from Berkeley to spend Christmas with her parents. She returned to Berkeley last Monday to resume her studies.

Supervisor Leinberger came home from Lake County last Tuesday where he spent a few days with the other members of the Yolo Board examining water rights and county roads. In all the likelihood the system of Yolo County roads, when built, will connect with the Lake County system so that through highways will be built to the coast.

For the Christmas festivities P. A. Hart was down from Knights Landing. He is still around town renewing acquaintances.

Give yourself a treat for the Holiday Season. Buy shoes at Caselli's, 527 K Street.

The Yolo woodyard is hauling its great pile of wood from the West Sacramento district where it has been stacked for several months on the county road. Neighbors in that and other localities also have been making free with the pile so that its size diminished a great deal. The proprietors of the woodyard feel very much better, however, that the peculations are made from West Sacramento rather than from the local yard because thereby the cost of hauling is saved to the owners.

Men, No Profiteering Here—I save you from $5 to $15 on your Suit or Overcoat. Only high-grade, reliable makes. Headquarters Corduroy Pants, Heavy Flannel Shirts, Wool Underwear, Wool Sweaters, Mackinaws, John B. Stetson and No-Name Union-Made Hats, Cameron Union-made Work Shirts. No second quality goods here. I have no rent to pay, and operate on a small margin. Gus Marks, the No-Rent, Money-Back Store, 417 K street. Open evenings until 9. Cash Checks.—Adv.

Mr. T. Evans, accompanied by Elaine Shaeffer and Elva Brietzke, are spending a pleasant week with relatives in Winters, but expect to be home for the New Year.

Roy Pagnello and family of Lodi spent Christmas at the Edwards home with his brother Ward Pagnello. He returned to Lodi last Friday.

E. I. Hansen is able to be around again after several weeks spent in his home suffering with a bad bruise sustained while he was splitting wood. The injury was not serious, although very painful for several days.

Ample arrangements are being made by the boys around town for a celebration New Years Eve. Judge Barry and Constable Buckingham are willing to overlook anything in the shape of fun, but will not countenance anything that might lead to injury to another person. It is useless to say that the necessary means of celebration are on hand or will be secured before New Years Eve. Nearly every home in Washington will have a quiet celebration to welcome the incoming year.

"Mickey" Williams is scheduled for a ring battle in Woodland on the afternoon of New Years day where he will meet young Joe Rivers. "Mickey" has been making a name for himself lately having won four times successively in Sacramento bouts. Mickey is a clever youngster who promises to do well in the ring and who is very careful and very quick. Although very handy with his mits, there is nothing of the bully in him, and he gets along swimmingly with the young boys of his age in his neighborhood. He is in fact a general favorite and all the Washington boys want to see him win out whenever he gets into the ring.

Miss Melda Baglin has gone to Watsonville to visit friends.

Miss Olean Brietzke who has been ill at her home is improving.

Mrs. Arthur Broillar of Grimes is a guest at the home of Mrs. C. A. Kiff.

Elbridge Fairbanks, who recently returned to California from New Mexico, was a visitor last Monday at the home of his cousin, I. K. Manchester.

Mrs. C. A. Newton is recovering from a severe illness.

January 5th has been set as the date for the reopening of the Washington school.

Thomas Newton went to Stockton yesterday on business.

At their home in Riverbank on Christmas day Mr. and Mrs. E. Cluness entertained a party of friends. Their guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Malone and Mrs. Charles Star of Sacramento, and Mrs. A. Richardson of Riverbank.

Mrs. Belle Porter was called to San Jose last Monday because of the serious illness of her sister.

James Nutting of Hollister was a visitor last Sunday at the home of his sister, Mrs. H. H. Godfrey.

Mrs. F. De Riso has returned from Oakland, where she was visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. Leo Brash.

Miss Neville Korell was a visitor this week in Stockton.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Johnson of Stockton were guests for Christmas at the home of Mrs. Johnson's parents. Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Buckingham.

Miss Marguerite Moser went to Natomas last Saturday to spend the remainder of the holidays at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Forest Stumbo.

VIRDEN PLANT WILL BE LOCATED IN WEST SACRAMENTO AT NEXT MEETING

CORPORATION COMMISSIONER BELLOWS HAS RELEASED TWO MILLION DOLLARS SUBSCRIBED TO THE CONCERN

At the next meeting of the Virden Packing Company or its Board of Directors selection will be made of the site for the plant with the probability that it will be located in West Sacramento.

The incorporation totals $5,000,000 of which $2,000,000 has already been subscribed. This amount was specified as a necessary subscription when the incorporation was completed and now that it has been released from escrow by Commissioner Bellows, there is to be no delay in the building of the plant.

As a matter of fact, the $2,000,000 mentioned above has already been paid into the treasury of the corporation.

Preliminary surveys were made in West Sacramento more than a year ago. Maps showing the location have been published, and the intention of the company was shown in its advertising when West Sacramento was pointed out as the location of the plant.

The effort made by the City Commission of Sacramento some short time ago to secure the plant fell by the wayside. The only real contender for the site is the "pocket" district south of Sacramento along the river.

No matter where the plant will be placed it will mean considerable for that locality, but the site must be convenient for transportation, must be convenient for workmen, and must be convenient to a constant supply of labor.

West Sacramento has these qualifications without question with the probability that the plant will be located there.

The location of the site in West Sacramento will mean a population in the district of not less than 10,000 people soon after the erection of the plant. It will mean constant and steady employment for hundreds of men and their families, with proportionate increase in property values and a constant and steady flow of labor.

The purchase of the Moran plant in San Francisco lately has no significance in the use of the Virden subscription list, for the Moran plant was bought through the issuance of stock in the Virden corporation.

There will be ample work for the Moran plant in and around San Francisco, while the Virden plant in West Sacramento will issue its products to serve the entire State of California and many western states, even as far east as Kansas City and Chicago.

Again, the Moran plant is singularly adapted for meat slaughtering only, while the Virden plant will be utilized for canning purposes of all kinds.

In this point, too, there is reason for locating the plant in West Sacramento, for in the immediate vicinity there is a great production of vegetables, fruits and the elements necessary for such an institution.

There is evidence that the Virden Packing Company has in mind the great taxation now prevalent in Sacramento City and County. No similar taxation prevails in Yolo County, but on the contrary assessments are low with a low rate.

Again, some of the large stockholders in the Virden Packing Company are deeply interested in the advancement of West Sacramento. J. H. Glide, President of the West Sacramento Company, is one of the prime movers of the Virden Packing Company. It was from the West Sacramento Company the contemplated site was selected, while there was no selection openly made in any other location.

Within easy walking distance of Sacramento the site in West Sacramento will be convenient for workingmen and this is very necessary, especially at the start when working men must be secured for the erection of the plant.

C. E. Virden, President of the corporation, has been out of town for several days and could not be interviewed by The Independent on the question of location. He is not authority for any of the above assertions and in fact does not know that this article is being published.

GOOD FOR THE KIDNEYS BUT HARD ON THE POCKETS

Isleton (Sacramento Co.), Dec. 29. A new record in high prices for asparagus has been set in this section.

Local canneries are contracting this year for "grass" at from 6 to 8 cents a pound. The price last year ranger from 3 to 5 cents.

The increase in the acreage devoted to the growing of the product in this section is phenomenal. There are now over 12,000 acres of full-grown grass in this section. Libby-McNeill & Libby and the California Packing Corporation are the largest operators.

ANOTHER COURSING MEET ON JANUARY 18TH NEAR DIXON

The Sacramento Valley Coursing Club held its first meet of the season last Friday near Dixon. Two stakes were on the card.

The stake, composed of 1919 futurity candidates, was divided by the two entries from the kennel of L. Lagomarsino of Coloma, they being Sweet Marie and Steam Belle.

The opening stake produced a number of surprises in it, and first money went to Lady De Vilbis from the kennel of Lee Montgomery of Davis. The runner-up was Sitkum, entered by the Wickiup Kennel.

As hares are plentiful, the club wants to arrange a meet to take place about January 18th on the same fields and to run three eight-dog stakes.

Following are the results of the meet:

Futurity candidate stake: Oakland Hannah beat Lady Alfred; Suisun beat Potrero Boy; Waconia beat Davis Beauty; Sweet Marie beat Julius Caesar; Steam Belle beat Benderella; Starlight, a bye.

Second ties: Oakland Hannah beat Suisun; Sweet Marie beat Waconia; Steam Belle beat Star Light. Third ties: Sweet Marie beat Oakland Hannah; Steam Belle, a bye; Sweet Marie and Steam Belle divided.

Open stake: Lady Belle beat Grafton Girl; Oakdale Lass beat Teddy Bear; Sitkum beat Oakland Beauty; Tralee Over beat Go By Mack; Vallejo Boy, a bye; Oakland Fretter beat Wisdom; Lady De Vilbis beat Fruit Ridge Boy.

Second ties: Oakdale Lass beat Lady Belle; Sitkum beat Tralee Over; Vallejo Boy beat Oakland Fretter; Lady De Vilbis, a bye. Third ties, Sitkum beat Oakdale Lass; Lady De Vilbis beat Vallejo Boy. Final: Lady De Vilbis beat Sitkum.

Drink cure institutions are a losing game in Los Angeles now, it is reported.

The undertakers are profiteering.

HONEST MAN FOUND FAT PURSE--BUT NO OWNER

Last Monday the Sacramento Union published the following story but the owner has not yet been located:

"An honest man and purse containing a large sum of money, have been found. Last night Joe Silva, of 87 Fifth street, San Francisco, came to the Union office and left a hand bag which he picked up Saturday on the road near Riverbank, while motoring along in his auto. In the handbag was a purse containing a large sum of money and an endorsed check, believed to be the property of a woman living in Broderick."

YOLO COUNTY MAY COPY NEW EXPERIMENT IN ROADS

The California Highway Commission has determined upon an experimental, or test construction or a section of one mile of the so-called Willite pavement on the highway in Imperial County, beginning at High Line Canal and extending easterly; also approximately a mile of the same pavement on the Castaic Ridge Road in Los Angeles County. The work will be done under the supervision of the commission's engineers by day labor.

The Willite is a plastic asphaltum combination of mixed sand, gravel and asphalt.

The pavement will be 15 feet wide and 5 inches thick. It is claimed that this pavement will not roll in waves or corrugate under traffic, and it is believed that the locations selected for the experiments will be a thorough test of these features in this respect.

SUBSCRIBE FOR YOUR HOME PAPER AVOID TROUBLE

A man who was too stingy to subscribe for his home paper sent his little boy to borrow the copy taken by a neighbor. In his haste the boy ran over a $4 stand of bees and in ten minutes looked like a warty summer squash.

His father ran to his assistance, and failing to notice the barb wire fence, ran into that, cutting a hole in his anatomy and ruining a $5 pair of trousers.

The old cow took advantage of the gap in the fence and got into the corn field and killed herself eating green corn. Hearing a racket, the wife ran out, upset a four-gallon churn of cream into a basket of little chickens, drowning the entire hatch.

In her haste she dropped a $35 set of false teeth. The baby, having been left alone, crawled through the milk into the parlor, ruining a brand new $25 carpet.

During the excitement the oldest daughter ran away with the hired man, the dog broke up 11 setting hens and the calves got out and chewed the tails of four fine shirts on the clothes line.—Sebree (Ky.) Banner.

The CHF Residential Energy Retrofit Program is sponsored by CRHMFA Homebuyers Fund (CHF), a California Joint Powers Authority. Funding for the Program is made possible through a grant award from the California Energy Commission.
*The following examples of 100% financing of qualified retrofit projects under the CHF Residential Energy Retrofit Program are based on a 15-year, fixed-rate CHF Loan. The monthly payment on a $10,000, 15-year fixed-rate CHF Loan at 3.00% interest would be $69.06 and the Annual Percentage Rate (APR) would be 3.403%. The payment on a $10,000, 15-year fixed-rate CHF Loan at 0.00% interest would be $55.56 and the APR would be 0.372%. The only fees used to calculate the APR are the escrow fee and the loan processing fee. Title policy and recording fees are not included in the APR calculation. The APR goes down as the amount borrowed goes up.
